Question 1: You indicated that you go to bars. Describe the bar you go to most often. Tell me everything about that place in detail.

Answer:
The bar I go to often is called "Green." It's cozy with comfy stools, dim lights, and a friendly vibe. The bartenders know me, and they make a great cocktail called "Nuoc Khoai." There's good music, regulars to chat with. It's my favorite spot for a relaxed evening with friends.

Question 2: Tell me about a memorable incident that happened at a bar. What exactly happened and why was it special? Tell me everything about that unforgettable incident at a bar.

Answer:
At a bar, they had karaoke night, and my friends and I joined in. Some strangers hopped on stage, and it turned into a big, fun sing-along. It made the night special because it showed how music can bring people together for a spontaneous and joyful time.

Question 3: What do you normally do when you have gatherings at pubs? Do you call your friends first? Do you go to a bank before you visit pubs? Talk about what you do when you get together with your friends at pubs.

Answer:
When we decide to meet up at the pub, I call my friends to see who's free. We don't go to the bank; we just bring cash. At the pub, we order drinks, play games, and have a good time catching up. It's a simple and fun way to hang out with friends.

Question 4: Tell me about a special visit to a bar or a pub. Maybe you celebrated your birthday there. Tell me what you did before and after your bar visit and how you spent your time at that bar. Tell me the whole story.

Answer:
On my birthday, my friends surprised me at home with a homemade cake before we went to our favorite pub downtown. We had drinks, and the bartender gave me a birthday shot. Later, we grabbed a late-night snack at a diner. It was a simple but fantastic celebration with friends.
